

UNACCEPTABLE 92/1030

Approximately 9%

Here are 10% of randomly selected responses from the “Unacceptable” category:

1. I think that the bathrooms should remain separated by men's and women's because I would not feel comfortable sharing a bathroom with the opposite gender at the same time.
2. I would prefer to have separate restrooms, the idea of a shard bathroom is a little uncomfortable
3. People might feel uncomfortable. COULD BE LATE TO CLASS IF THEY HAVE TO LOOK FOR A BATHROOM THAT THEY ARE COMFORTABLE WITH.
4. I think having a gender neutral restroom would cause a lot of problems on the campus and could cause people to be sexually assaulted
5. I don't think combining the men's and women's bathrooms is a good idea because it would create a lot of discomfort for people.
6. People may use it as a way to go into any bathroom
7. While I feel that everyone should be able to use the bathroom that matches their gender with which they line, I don't think that means everyone should alter how they feel comfortable with the bathrooms. I think there are far fewer individuals who feel more comfortable with the gender neutral bathrooms than those who feel comfortable with it.
8. I am ok with single bathrooms being gender neutral but not multiple stalls bathroom.
9. I believe that it would cause more delays in having single person neutral restrooms, I think everything works faster when it's seperated.
