I) Public Comments

- A. Mary Rees – It really is a tense time and stressful. Thank you for taking the time for this. This is one of my favorite things. So wonderful to hear the disciplines and departments to hear their needs and wants and everyone listening and caring. We are really a single unit and really are a family. So much work has gone into this. Oleg, Kim, Lisa and all the data. It does pay off. We really know what our strengths are. Even if we can't provide everything, we are stronger for the extra awareness. Thank you to everyone.
- B. Nathan – We have two different concerts this week. This Thursday Jazz and Wind Ensemble through youtube on September 23rd and Stream Jam

II) New Business

- A. Full-time Faculty Prioritization 2020
 - 1) Erik – Thank you to everyone and thank you to Trustee Perez for joining us.
 - a) Regarding to the process – Assumptions, Criteria, and Guidelines. We are voting on behalf on the college. Thank you to Dean Bepalov and his team for the data. Presentations are largely 3 minutes a piece or 6 minutes for two requests. We will first hear from the categorial requests. Then we will start on general. We chose geography at random with a number generator as the starting point for general fund requests.
 - b) How to fill out the ballot was demonstrated. Please send your completed ballo to both Nicole Block and Erik Reese. We will both independently collate the results and then compare the results as a double check. You are welcome to stay after prioritization to observe the tally. The results are first forwarded to the College President then to Senate Council and Dean's Council.
 - 2) Comment – Three disciplines that have two positions. If you have multiple positions, I do encourage you to suggest which one is a higher priority. You will be asked that question. Thank you for that.
 - 3) Question – Could we vote high on every single one. Are we required to break it down?
 - 4) Erik – The vote is roughly a third each of high, medium and low. For our 23 requests, one votes for eight highs (5's), eight mediums (3's), and seven lows (1's). There are also opportunities to ask questions later.
 - 5) The Order of Business began by Erik Reese
 - a) A specific time slot was offered to any presenter with time constraints. There were none.
 - b) Two positions requested from Categorial Funds
 - c) One mandated position request
 - d) Twenty-three positions requested from general funds to be prioritized. Speaking order started from number eleven (randomly selected) and then continued in alphabetical order.
 - 6) Submission of voting sheets turned into Erik Reese and Nicole Block via email.

7) Erik - Any questions? Please turn in ballots before 5pm today.
