Subject: Call for Nominations for Standing Committee Faculty Co-Chairs for 2021-2023: Deadline Oct 30

Dear Fellow Faculty,

The Academic Senate is calling for nominations for faculty co-chairs for our standing committees:

- Curriculum Committee
- Distance Education Committee (DE)
- Education Committee on Accreditation and Planning (EdCAP)
- Facilities and Technology Committee on Accreditation and Planning (FTCAP)
- Professional Development Committee (PD)
- Student Learning Outcomes Committee (SLO)
- Student Success and Equity Committee (SEA)

Noon on Friday October 30 is the deadline for nominations and candidate statements to be submitted to me, ereese@vcccd.edu. Faculty may self-nominate or be nominated by their faculty peers and both part-time and full-time faculty may stand for these co-chair positions. The vote for these positions takes place during Academic Senate Council, currently scheduled for the November 17 meeting.

The call for faculty co-chair goes out every two years for election in the Fall semester so that the elected co-chairs have the opportunity to shadow the current co-chairs during the Spring semester. The two-year term for these positions starts June 1, 2021.

More information about the process for the election of co-chairs and their duties is contained in Article VIII of the Academic Senate By-laws and the Elections Rules. A brief description of the positions is attached. In addition, all related documents for these elections and up-to-date nomination information may be found on the Senate Elections website.

Please consider standing for one of these co-chair positions and/or nominating a fellow faculty member and do not hesitate to reach out with any questions, concerns, or interests,

Erik

Erik D. Reese, PhD
Academic Senate President
Professor of Physics and Astronomy
Moorpark College