Method of Instruction	Document typical activities or assignments for each method of instruction
Asynchronous Dialog (e.g., discussion board)	The faculty advisor may post discussion topics regarding the student project or the internship learning objectives and encourage dialog. These discussion topics may aim to probe and assess student knowledge and progress, or lead the student to explore new concepts and experiment with novel approaches to either problem solving or conquering the learning objectives.
Synchronous Dialog (e.g., online chat)	The faculty advisor may schedule online meeting times with the student to discuss the student's learning objectives, have a dialogue about the student's progress, clarify expectations, or answer questions. The faculty advisor may also meet online with the student and the work site supervisor to discuss the student's contributions to the work place, and any areas of strength or concerns that would help the faculty advisor better guide the student's experience.
Face to Face (by student request; cannot be required)	The student may request face-to-face meetings with the advisor to discuss any issues of concern regarding either the learning outcomes of the project, the work environment, or obstacles that are hindering the student's progress. Additionally, the student may request a face-to-face meeting perhaps to demonstrate a skill that the student has learned, or the operation of a device that the student has built, or an art piece that the student has created.
Video Conferencing	The faculty advisor and the student may utilize video conferencing for lessons, discussions, collaborations, or Q/A sessions. Video conferencing may also be utilized for student progress and student work assessment and evaluation where the student can illustrate and discuss the outcomes of the learning objectives.
E-mail	The faculty advisor and the student may utilize emails to communicate regularly about a variety of matters including but not limited to upcoming meetings, events, due dates, project details, etc. The student may also email the faculty advisor any documents about the project which will require an action on the part of the faculty advisor.
