Due to changes in legislation and the Education Code (Section 78261.5), the Moorpark College Associate Degree Nursing Program has adopted a multi-criteria selection process for admission combined with a random selection process. The multi-criteria selection process will be utilized to select the most qualified candidates for admission. In addition, all applicants meeting the minimum requirements have the opportunity to be randomly selected for admission. There is no waitlist. If you have not been selected for admission within two years of application you will need to reapply.

The multi-criteria process is being implemented with applications submitted during Fall 2009 and forward. Applicants are to submit the supporting documentation, if applicable with their application.

The processes consider factors such as: • Academic degree, and professional certification • Work or volunteer experience in healthcare • Life experiences, hardship, and talent • Proficiency or advanced level coursework in languages other than English • Scores on the TEAS test• GPA in prerequisite classes • GPA in overall coursework
